

Czechoslovak News Agency
Photo Service

Prague, June 27th 1955.

CPYRGHT

Fourth Day of the First National Spartakiade in Prague.

On Sunday, June 26th the Strahov Stadium belonged for the last time to Czechoslovak youth. During the past four days of the First National Spartakiade 315.000 boys and girls enchanted by their excercises about 600.000 spectators and were rewarded by endless applause and ovations.

It can well be said, that the organisation of the first four days of the First National Spartakiade, was perfect. Extraordinary grat tasks have been with success fulfilled also by Czechoslovak State Railways and Traffic Enterprises of Prague. Canteens at the Strahov Stadium and at youth accomodation centres as well as all Prague shops, which had rush hours late into the night, served to young customers only by their best! Prague will never forget the beautiful days of youth of the First National Spartakiade and its participants will in their hearts bring back home the wonderful spirit of unity and joy and determination to go on in their victorious way, the spirit, that in these days overwhelmed the Strahov stadium.

105.535/13 The fourth day of the Spartakiade as well was a great triumph of students of the State Labour Reserves Schools.

Photo shows: Streams of students of the State Labour Reserves Schools arriving at the Strahov Stadium, Prague.

105.528/97+98 General view of the floor excercises of students of the State Labour Reserves Schools. Boys formed living cog-wheels and waving rows of girls demonstrate electric current, which drives them.

105.535/59 9.800 boys and girls<sup>whirled</sup> in front of the enchanted spectators and formed beautiful living pictures.

105.535/77 In new Czechoslovakia grows up a new generation of strong, healthy and beautiful youth. Our picture symbolizes the days of youth at the First National Spartakiade in Prague.